Border Butcheries ---- Devils Deeds.

By Telegraph to the News.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14 —A Portland despatch says: "The following has been received from J. B Keeney, dated Pendleton, 12th :" "We have been having exciting times here to-day The hostile Indians are in force on the reservation. George Coggan, of Portland, and A. L Bunker, of LaGrand, were shot this afternoon, six miles from here, on the stage road to Coyuse. Coggan was killed, and Bunker is supposed to be mortally wounded. Fred Foster, who was with them, only got away by luck. Bunker rode with him about two miles after he was shot, when they were compelled to part. Foster brought news and we started the team with fourteen men as escort to go for Bunker. They got as far as Chief Wincumonat's farm, when they were attacked and driven back. The Indians were about one hundred and fifty strong and Umatillas are undoubtedly fighting with them. The Coyuse house was pillaged and burned Our stage station was not burned at dark. Capt Miles' command will reach the agency to-night; his soldiers are exhausted, and should they go to the agency thinking the Umatillas are all right, they may get the worst of it. Our families are at the mill and courthouse, and the town is well guarded.

The following letter is just received by Governor Chadwick at Umatilla, by courier from Pendleton:

"Troops under Capt. Miles are now fighting Indians about two miles above this agency. They have been fighting two hours. Almost all the Umatillas are supposed to be in the fight. A. Bunker has just got in. Coggan has not been found yet. Should the Indians get the best of Miles we will all have to fight. Over one hundred men are here; no arms, however."

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15—The advices from Walla Walla report the fighting between the Indians and Gen. Miles commenced Saturday morning between the mouth of Lodi Willow and Cayuse Station, and General Forsythe with several companies of cavalry have gone to reinforce him.

Got their Deserts.

By Telegraph to the News.

NEW YORK, July 14.—A Herald special from Montreal says: As Sherbrook and Richmond troops were leaving there yesterday for home, large crowds gathered and taunted the soldiers with having come to Montreal to see Protestants beaten under their noses. As the train moved an orange handkerchief was shook in defiance at the mob, which immediately stoned the train, smashing windows, &c. Fifty shots were fired into the mob, and two men badly wounded. Gen. Smyth will investigate the affair.

Result of the Peace Congress Satisfactory.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, July 15 —The press favorably comments on the results of the Congress, the Daily News only excepted. The Times' leading editorial, summing up the labors of the Congress, says: "It has made changes which transform an empire; has removed long standing causes of discontent; has pacified, we may hope, provinces which were torn by discussion and misrule, and has placed barriers between rival forms of implacable bigotry; has stopped many avenues of foreign intrigue, and it it has abridged the power of the Porte it has given peace to Europe.

Beaconsfields Return--General Election.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, July 15.—Beaconsfield is expected Tuesday. Preparations are making for a popular demonstration at Charing Cross for honoring his return. Beaconsfield accepts the dinner tendered by the Carlton club.

The Manchester Guardian's London correspondent says the expectation gains ground that a general election is imminent, but nothing can be definitely stated until Beaconsfield's return. It is understood the Premier will make an important speech in the House of Lords Thursday night, and if an appeal to country is intened as a notification that steps will then be given by him

The Garrison of Cyprus.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, July 15.—The Daily News says it is intended that the Island of Cyprus be permanently garrisoned by a comparatively small body of European troops, which is to be supplemented by local militia organized by officers accompanying General Sir Garnet Wolseley. The stay of Indian troops in the Island is only temporary. General Wolseley is expected to arrive at Malta on Wednesday. He starts thence for Cyprus on the 20th instant, with transports to convey on the troops.

Veterans in the Field.

Concord Sun.

Some of the candidates the Stanly people have in the field are William H. Pearne, for Sheriff, who was wounded twice during the war, and is carrying some of the lead in his body to-day. W. Snuggs, for Register of Deeds, had one leg shot off. M. B. Howell, for Clerk, had one arm shot off. This is proof conclusive that all of them shouldered their part of the burden in the times when men's souls were being tried.

County Politics.

Concord Sun.

These are troublesome times for our good old county, yet every true and straight haired Democrat knows whom to vote for.

Candidate for Solicitor.

Statesville American.

Col. Thomas J. Dula, of Wilkes, has declared himself a candidate for the solicitorship of the 7th Judicial district, in opposition to Joe Dobson, the present incumbent.

Western North Carolina Railroad.

Chapel Hill Ledger.

This road is nearing completion. It is one of the internal improvements of the State which deserve special attention at the hands of our next Legislature. Visit that road and see the work that has been done, and no one will hesitate to say it should be finished. Major Wilson, the President of the road, is working hard to have it completed, and his efforts deserve the support of those who wish to see North Carolina succeed. It is a great work. It must be finished. The Legislature must aid it.

County Convention--Greenbacks.

Concord Register, 13th.

The friends of the National—Greenback—Party will hold a convention and organize to-day, in this county, at the courthouse. This organization is gaining strength and influence all over the nation. In the west and southwest it numbers its adherents by tens of thousands, and is weaker, perhaps, in North Carolina than in any State in the Union. There is no doubt but this organization is going to exercise a controlling influence in the nation, and we think for good.

New Method of Election.

Wilmington Star.

Attention is called to the fact that at the last session of the Legislature the law in reference to the election of county commissioners was changed so as to require that only three commissioners be elected, and that these should be chosen by the board of magistrates instead of by direct vote of the people. This law also requires that the board of magistrates meet for this purpose on the first Monday in August—about three weeks from this time.

Lincoln County Canvass.

Lincoln Progress

The county canvass begins next Tuesday at Denver. So far, we do not know of any opposing candidates to the Democratic nominees. The party in our county seems to be as united and well organized, as we ever saw it in former days and no one seems inclined to the hopeless task of endeavoring to defeat it. We have reason to feel proud of the organization in Lincoln when almost every county around us has had trouble and dissension.

Independent Candidates.

Hickory Press.

The Piedmont Press has always advocated party organization and the holding of conventions, and then always supported the nominees of the party, and we are proud to say that it still knows no departure from that precedent. In our midst at this time there are a number of independent candidates for various positions within the gift of the people of Catawba county. Some of these gentlemen have been for several years, and are still, friends of the editor of this paper, and some of them are gentlemen whom we would be much delighted to see in office, if they were to seek that place in the proper way. We will not allow our friendship to cause us to be derelict in duty—so we warn the citizens of Catawba county against these Independent candidates. Spot every one of them and show at the polls on election day that you do not intend to destroy party organization by elevating them to office over the regular nomines.

The Independents.

Charlotte Observer.

We charge the greater part of this independentism to Judge Merrimon. When party leaders make it a business to run independent of the party it is no wonder that there are found privates who are ready to follow their example. With the signal defeat which awaits him next winter, however, a blow will be dealt this practice from which it will not soon recover, and the name of an independent will become a by-word and a reproach. When the ring-leaders are disciplined insubordination will cease: otherwise it will continue until crushed out by slower but no less sure process, to-wit: repeated defeat of the individual mutineers.

TRINITY COLLEGE.

Keeping Pace with the Times ---Establishment of a Kindergarten---The Talented Instructors.

Special Correspondence to the News.

TRINITY COLLEGE, July 14.

According to previous engagement, Mrs. Pollock and her accomplished daughter, Miss Susie Pollock, of Washington City, arrived this a. m., and have taken rooms at the Parker House. They are both accomplished, experienced kindergarteners; they have brought all necessary material with them, and will, without a doubt, give the most complete and interesting exposition of this particular mode of instructing children ever given in the South.

Mrs. Pollock is principal of the Normal Kindergarten at Washington, and has the reputation of being one of the ablest expounders of the system in this country.

Miss Susie Pallock is one of the pioneers of Kindergarten in America, and conducts a fine school in Washington. She received her Kindergarten training in Berlin, Prussia, and has ever since been actively engaged in teaching the system. From childhood she manifested much devotion to children. She has always found pleasure in seeking others—in going about to do good.

At the age of eleven, while at school in Weston, Mass., she wrote a play, based on true Froebel principles, of which, at that time, she had not even heard.

She loves the Sunday School, and when a Christmas tree is gotten up for the children she makes something with her own hands for each little scholar.

After attending school in Boston and elsewhere for ten years, and carefully pursuing a course of study and reading with her parents, she went to Germany, and, though only eighteen years of age, she had much skill in teaching before she went.

All the while she was in Germany she was an admirer and enthusiastic student of the Kindergarten system. While in Berlin she devoted her time exclusively to the requirements of the Normal Institute, where she graduated and received her diplomas from the faculty now in the Kindergarten Union of Berlin.

Before returning home she visited Paris, and remained there six months, practically imbibing one of Froebel's fundamental principles, by which children are taught to consider themselves as a part of a grand whole, instead of thinking too much of themselves, and magnifying every little trouble that may happen to them.

After her return to this country she taught a Kindergarten in Chestnut Street, Boston, and then took charge of eighty children at the Church Home in South Boston. Her fame went abroad and when a teacher of the first order was wanted in Washington, she was selected. She and her mother have succeeded in building up and sustaining a first class kindergarten for training normal scholars in accordance with the principles taught at Berlin. They hope to do for Washington what Mrs. Aldrich has done for Florence, Mass., viz: establish free kindergartens and classes for mothers, governesses and teachers; but they have had to overcome many obstacles in establishing this new system.

They will commence their work Monday at 10 o'clock. Miss Pollock delivers the instructory lecture. This will consist of a synopsis of kindergarten training; enumeration and illustration of the kindergarten gifts and occupations, with a complete exposition of Froebel's educational system, and the fundamental forms used—closing with the moral aspect of kindergarten or nature's method of teaching. A list of text books and books of reference will be given also.

In the afternoon Mrs. Pollock will lecture on the first and second gifts, giving complete illustrations and applications. Every one, who can possibly do so, should attend. I have been so fortunate as to have the pleasure of spending several hours with these ladies and feel certain that a rare treat is in store for every one who shall be so fortunate as to hear them.

Mrs. Pollock has with her her little daughter Welesca, a sweet little girl of eight summers. She is a perfect prodigy, so to speak, and is a fine example of the magnificent effects of Kindergarten training. She sings ever so many Kindergarten songs in a charming manner. Even while I now write her sweet, soft voice greets my ears. NORMALITE.

ARCHÆOLOGICAL.

The Antiquities of Western North Carolina.

Correspondence of the News.

ASHEVILLE, July 13.

About three miles from the mound I described in a former letter is a smaller one. It is situated in a bottom and near a small branch or brook, shows the same form, and no doubt but it was the burial place of a smaller community or neighborhood I could see no evidence whether it was built or not at the same time as the former. From the amount of labor that would be necessary to build one of these, I am at liberty to infer that either the builders were of a different tribe or they were ignorant of the erection by each other, and that considerable time had elapsed between their being built. While perhaps one race had run through its destiny another had been raised to secure and occupy the land. Both of these were, at the time of the first settlement by our race, were covered with a heavy growth of timber. The Indians had no knowledge of the builders. My conjecture is that tho people who built these mounds were here at the same time as these ancient mica miners, and that the latter people derived their support from these. The seashells found in these mounds convince me that they had intercourse with the wayfarers of the sea, and these latter were the people to whom the products of these mines were exchanged for other products. In evidence of that fact I have yet to learn of its use or existence in any of the vacated settlements of America. I infer that the copper mines of Lake Superior were worked nearly at the same period, and that the mound builders of the Western States occupied their lands at the same time. God permitted them to remain until they had worked out his design and then they were permitted to pass away and to be succeeded by others who were to work out his design.

Near Burnsville, on the Gardner farm, is a rock which has the impression of a large bear foot, and near by that of a smaller one, also the tracks of an elk, turkey, rabbit, and a crease that one would infer was the path of snakes. By examining these with care we are led to believe that this rock was in a plastic state at the time of these impressions and that soon after some measure of heat or other conditions took place that completed the formation of this rock and these outlines of impressions were hardened and withstood the action of the elements to this time, and to these we are indebted for what little history we have of that time.

S. P. MAYBERRY.

IN MEMORIAM.

Strange--Empie---Wright--- An Eulogy Pronounced at the Request of the Bar by Edward Cantwell, at the Court House, Wilmington, N. C. on Saturday, the 29th June, 1878.

Published in the News by request.

We have recently had to mourn the departure of three of our most gifted brethren, at short intervals of time, and they were men who, besides being eminent in a professional sense, were endeared to us by their personal character and the civil and social qualities they cultivated.

The first of them (Col. Strange) was endowed with the graces of a cultivated intelligence. He enriched us with the wealth of his learning, the splendor of his rhetoric, and the nameless fascination of inherited culture. The second (Mr. Empie) was a genial Carolinian, who added luster to a name already distinguished in our annals, and perished just as he was about to scale the sun-crowned hights to which he aspired.

One of these men, armed in all the glory of a complete physical and intellectual manhood, leaped from the spot where I now stand, across the mysterious chasm which divides the life that is, from that to come. His jewelled hand still clutched the laurels of honor and fame; his fair brow was yet wet with the dew of human toil, his eyes were still bright with earthly love when he passed from the bar of this court into the presence of the Eternal and the Omniscient. The other, gifted by nature with almost equal powers, was weakened and borne down by disease. His mortal fame, like some scarred battleship, slowly settled to its fate, and is now

"Silent beside the never silent waves."

These two were comparatively young men. We come here to-day to offer a tribute of affectionate respect to the memory of the father of the bar (Mr. W. Wright) and our oldest practitioner.

It was his fortune to reach the fullness of his time; to pass away at the period described by the inspired Psalmst, wherein "we bring our years to an end as it were a tale that is told." His work on earth was done, and he continued on his eternal journey hence, at peace with God and loving all mankind.

Mr. Chairman, matter and spirit are both of them indestructible and immortal. In some shape or another they survive decay and triumph over death. Nevertheless, to very few of our race is there any promise given of that personal resurrection which includes the reward of personal identity, and an everlasting self-consciousness. The majority of mankind, careless of the future, and indifferent to fate, act as if there were no hereafter, no Second Death such as is described by England's greatest poet.

"——to die, and go we know not whe e,
To lie in cold obstruction and to rot,
This sensible, warm motion, to become a kneaded clod,
And the delighted spirit to bathe in fiery floods,
Or reside in thrilling regions of thick ribbed ice:
To be imprisoned in the viewless winds,
And blown with restless violence round about
The pendent world. Or worst than worst,
To be of those wnom lawless and incertain thoughts
Imagine howling. O, 'tis too horrible!
The wea iest and most loathed human life,
That age, ache, penury, imprisoument,
Can lay on nature, is a p radise
——to such a death!"

I am pursuaded that our departed friend was, however, one of those sons of men whom the great Apostle loves to speak, who are hereafter to sit with majesty, in the clouds and power of heaven,—who, having on earth worn the image of the earthly, will yet win and wear the image of the heavenly; whose corruptible shall put on incorruption, whose mortal immortality; to whom death brings no sting, and over whom the grave achieves no victory. Standing near the fresh mound which covers his remains, and surrounded by his friends and kindred, I think we may, in this faith exclaim in the language of one just less than inspired:

"Nothing is here for tears; nothing to wail;
——No wea ness; no contempt, Dispr ise o blame. Nothing but well and fair
And what may comf rt us in death so noble!"

Divide and Conquer.

Greensboro Patriot.

This is the policy adopted by the wire-pullers of the Radical party in sections where their weakness prevents them from making an open contest. It is an old game and singular it is that it should deceive anybody. But people, very well-meaning people, too, will sometimes fall into the trap.

We don't think we ever heard of as many "independent" candidates talked of in this State as at the present time. They are not confined to either party, the difference being, however, that the Republican Independents are playing the part assigned them, and are running in pursuance to the plans of their managers, while the Democratic independents are "going it alone" and running in opposition to the wishes of their own party and the earnest remonstrances of some of their best friends.

The impression seems to have gone abroad that the Radical party in this State is a defunct institution, and that consequently there is not much danger in these little family squabbles amongst ourselves. But there is danger; more than unreflecting people think there is, and they will discover it before long if this disregard of party organization continues. With a united Conservative party the Radical party is practically dead, but with a divided and wrangling Conservative party it will prove an astonishingly lively corpse. The wounded opossum plays dead to deceive its enemies and the Radical party is good in the 'possum line.

In addition to the speeches by the regular nominees of the party the following independent candidates spoke: O. G. Ford and J. F. Murrill, for the House of Representatives, J. M. Brown for Register of Deeds, and Adam Hagan for Treasurer. They all representing a bad cause and made correspondingly weak efforts in the way of speaking.

HARMONY IN THE RANKS.

Col. Paul B. Means Withdraws from the Contest---Prefers the Party Integrity to his Own Promotion.

Charlotte Observer.

It is gratifying to learn that the political dead-lock in our neighboring county, Cabarrus, has come to an end Their friends outside of the county have viewed the situation with anxiety, and without at all presuming to dictate to a people who in the past have managed their own affairs so well, have earnestly desired to see an adjustment of the differences which have existed in the party ranks in that county. This has been brought about by the withdrawal of Col. Paul B. Means from the contest for representative. This step he took in the county convention held in Concord yesterday for the purpos of appointing delegates to the congressional district convention at Monroe, and he has, in addition to this, circulated a card of which the following is a copy:

THE DEMOCRATS IN CABARRUS.

King Solomon decided that the woman who refused to have the child cut in twain loved it most

Rather than divide the Democratic party of this county I prefer to see its honors given to another. I therefore announce to you my withdrawal from this contest for Representative, and surrender any claims I may have for that position to my competitor.

I do this because I love our party, its integrity and efficiency, more than I do my own promotion, and because I am well assured that the example of ou contentions is doing a damage to our cause among others and is giving hope to our enemies.

I verily believe, with all my heart, that the best interest, of our common country are dependent upon the application of the principles of the Democratic-Conservative party; and that unless the integrity of its organization be preserved and its ranks kept solid, those principles cannot be applied. Therefore I shall always be found struggling for the organization and success of our party.

To those who have stood by me so faithfully in this contest, I give my heartiest thanks, and will ever remember them with the deepest gratitude; and to the good people of my native county, I am profoundly grateful for the honors and kindnesses they have bestowed upon me in the past.

Respectfully,
PAUL B. MEANS.

Monroe Enquirer.

The Primary Election System was adopted, after mature consideration, as an effectual barrier against unfairness or trickery. Although but a half vote was polled, we believe the result nearer approaches the popular choice than would have been the case had the old-style convention and township meetings been held. It cannot be charged, now, that a majority of the people have been defrauded of their choice. Every Democratic voter in Union county could have registered an expression of his preference for candidates for the different offices on the day of election. If he neglected so to do, it was his own fault. Because one man's choice was not the choice of a majority of the party, he should not show his lack of patriotism and party fealty by urging his choice to disregard the action of the people, and announce himself an independent candidate. What the Democratic party lack in Union county is organization. It has strength and material, but there is lack of unity, and the party structure is in a weak condition, not from the feebleness of the materials of which it is composed, but from the shackling manner in which this material is held together. Radicalism as a party, is rapidly dying out in the South, but the party leaders are still hopeful, and take advantage of every dissension in the Democratic ranks. If we hold together firmly as a party, the Radicals will soon become disintegrated and gradually creep back into the Democratic fold. We do not believe the Union Democrats will give countenance to the independent candidate. He has had no excuse to break from the party or disregard its decision made at the ballot-box. Let us therefore unite solidly in support of the nominees.

What Think Ye?

Moore Carthaginian.

We think it is due the colored people in and around Carthage, to say a few words of commendation as regards their progress, both intellectually and morally. They all seem determined to study and learn and have been working in this line ever since we have been in Carthage. Everything always has a beginning. In this case the example of H. C. and John Tyson, have been the cause of so much advancement with the colored people. These boys set out a few years ago with a determination to get an education, and by their own efforts are succeeding admirably. Their plan has been to teach for a time, and then they would go to school; and thus they, by example and persuasion, have set the rest of the colored people about here, as it were, in a "rave" for learning. In point of morals, these same young men have set a good example for their race. A few months ago Bishop Hood, colored, came to Carthage and organized a Temperance society for the colored people. By the unceasing efforts of D. J. McRae, (col) and others of his people, they now number about eighty members. We have noticed for several months the colored people seldom get intoxicated, seldom violate the law and move along in a quiet manner. It speaks well for them. Is it possible the white young men of the town will be excelled in morals by the colored people, who have enjoyed half the advantages. Shame! Shame. We like to see the colored people improving so much, and it is by enlightenment that they will be prepared to discharge their duties as citizens and learn to act in unity with the white race.

THE COUNTY CANVASS.

The Fourth Day---Democratic Strength---Mr. Snows Ability ---Effective Addresses---Our Candidates---Gratifying Prospects.

The canvass in Wake county waxes hot, and with the heated term, grows hotter and hotter, with the certainty of the election of the entire Democratic ticket. The canvass has been conducted so far with judgment, ability and success, and all the Democrats have to do is to continue their brilliant attacks on the enemy to the end of the campaign, and there will scarcely remain a vestige of radicalism in the county—the Republican speakers feel already that their cause is hopeless, they weaken in their canvass daily, and are thoroughly convinced that their prospects are utterly hopeless, whilst the Democrats, conscious that the arguments they use are overwhelmingly convincing, and are telling in their favor, speak with spirit and are pressing the enemy with vigor. All feel that when the sun sets on the 1st of August Wake county will be redeemed, disenthralled and relieved of Republican misrule and that she will send greeting to her sister Democratic counties throughout the State that she, the metropolitan county, is the peer of any county in the State. And this result will be accomplished by such a majority as will utterly destroy the organization of the Republican party in Wake.

THE PROGRAMME OF SPEAKING.

Candidates for the Senate allowed fifty minutes; for the Legislature, twenty minutes, and for county offices, five minutes.

The contest was opened by Major Bledsoe, who objected to the report of his speech, published in the News, of the 14th inst.

The News reporter repeats that his report of Major Bledsoe's speech at Apex was correct in every essential particular. Major Bledsoe's speech yesterday was a repetition of that delivered by him on Saturday—arraigning labor against capital, strongly tinctured with communistic sentiments; charged that his competitor belonged to that class of society styled "codfish aristocracy;" that he was nominated by a packed fungus convention.

GEORGE H. SNOW.

This honored standard bearer of the Democracy delivered an able speech in his happiest style, and with telling effect. In addition to what he said in his speech at Apex, he said that Maj. Bledsoe reminded him of the man who dreamed that he died and appeared at the gates of heaven seeking admittance; he was told that he could not enter the heavenly portals, and was informed that there was another place where he might possibly be admitted; the dreamer presented himself at the gates of hell, and applied for admission. The devil told him that none were permitted to enter the infernal regions, except those who were duly registered before death, bade the culprit wait till the register was examined; soon his satanic majesty returned and told the applicant he could not be admitted, when the dreamer left in despair, with drooping head, and was depicted in his features. The devil taking compassion on him, told him to wait awhile and he would give him a chuck of fire, and he could raise a little hell for himself on the earth.

Bledsoe could not get the nomination of either party, and now he was trying to raise a hell for himself, outside of both parties.

Mr. Snow read the affidavits of Bledsoe saying he could not get justice in the courts of Wake, and praying the removal of causes pending in Wake to Johnson courts. One case involving only $60.

He defined an independent candidate to be a cross between a Democrat and Republican, and the first step from the former to the latter.

He charged that Bledsoe said at a public meeting at Gulleys, in Wake county in 1860, that rather than allow the negroes to rent land in any other way than as day laborers, that the white land-owners had better let their lands grow up in weeds and thistles. Mr. Henry Jordan came forward and said he heard Major Bledsoe say so, and Bledsoe did not deny it.

Mr. Snow was in favor of poll tax, said only four hundred colored men in the county paid this tax, and claimed that he would be elected by a majority of fifteen hundred votes; charged that Bledsoe during the war furnished provisions to the State at the enormous price of $6 per barrel for corn in gold and other things in proportion aggregating $12,000; that upon suit being brought the courts allowed him $5 300, and that the Legislature reduced the amout to $3,300, which Bledsoe had received, and now he wanted to go to the Senate to get an appropriation for the additional $2,000.

Mr. Snow closed his speech by an eloquent allusion to the manner in which the Clan Douglas were summoned to repel the invasion of their territory.

Bledsoe in reply said that he had twice been buried, and twice had he been resurrected, and that he stood before the audience a living man, and holding up his hands said "behold my hands."

This blasphemous allusion to the Savior shocked the audience, and Mr. Snow in reply, lashed Bledsoe for his impious language, unmercifully. Jno. McDonald delivered his usual speech.

H C. OLIVE.

Mr. Olive delivered his speech with eloquence and much force, and stated that a prominent Republican told him on Saturday that the candidates put forward by the Republican Convention did not reflect the sentiments of the party but Magnism.

This gentleman always speaks with energy and makes a fine impression on his audience.

STEWART ELLISON

followed in a speech which was decidedly the best delivered by any of the Republican speakers. He declared he would vote for Merrimon for United States Senator.

COL. STEPHENSON

followed, acquitting himself handsomely.

Then came "Honest Bob," who was followed by who is certainly making a fine reputation as a forcible speaker, and making many personal friends. He advised the people not to have their attention distracted by petty local issues, put forward by demagogues, but vote for men representing Democratic principles; and said that he did not doubt the result.

Magnin stated that the Republicans in the Legislature would vote for Judge Merrimon for United States Senator, and that he would not vote for Collins, the colored Republican candidate for Solicitor of this judicial district and that his purpose in wishing to be elected was to make a name for himself.

closed the discussion in an effective speech.

The candidates for county offices simply announced themselves as candidates.

DAVE LEWIS

announced himself as the next Sheriff of Wake county, and asked the people how they liked his looks? saying he had not, as had been charged, pledged himself to appoint any one his deputy.

MR. WILLIAMS,

candidate for Clerk, made a telling five minutes talk.

MAJOR RUSS

told a few anecdotes, which put the fatigued audience in a good humor, and announced that on to-day there would be a change in the time allotted to the county officers, taking time from the candidates for the Senate, and adding it to the county candidates.

Thus closed the day's proceedings, greatly in favor of the Democrats, and the Republicans evidently discouraged and beaten.

The excursion train under the management of Tim Lee, (who had served ices and eatables to the gratification of all), returned to the city.

Tim will run an excursion train during the campaign to all accessible points on the railroads.

Climate and Disease.

At the late meeting of the American Medical Association, Dr. A. L. Loomis, of New York, read an interesting and valuable paper, in which he treated of the climatic treatment of pulmonary diseases. When stripped of the professional jargon which renders his profession unintelligible to the average reader, Dr. Loomis says that in tubercular phthisis, that is in consumption which is the result of tubercles on the lungs, he has never known climate to produce favorable results, while in other varieties climate has shown power in arresting and controlling the disease. He thinks there can be little question but that there are certain atmospheric germs which, when drawn into the lungs on inhalation, act destructively upon the lungs. Dr. Loomis does not credit the belief, which prevailed fifteen years ago, that a warm, dry atmosphere was the essential climatic element for the arrest or cure of consumption. He is of opinion that the more recent observations and investigations have settled the fact that consumption is not necessarily hastened in its development by a low temperature; neither is it prevented or cured by a high temperature. It is claimed that more extended observation has demonstrated that the altitude at which it is supposed immunity exists varies with the latitude; that the nearer the approoch to the equator the higher must be the altitude in order to accomplish the desired result. Immunity is not due to altitude, but to the absence of organic matter in the air of the high elevations. Pulmonary invalids have improved in pine forests, but Dr Loomis holds that it is by their power of converting the oxygen of the atmosphere into ozone, and the power of ozone, of destroying noxious gases and atmospheric germs that the atmosphere is rendered so pure as be beneficial to invalids. So long as the result is produced it does not matter what the agencies are. He is of opinion that cases of tubercular consumption do best in the quiet, well-ventilated apartments of their own homes. He considers Aiken, Sonth Carolina, Palatka, Enterprise and Gainesville, Florida, Thomasville, in Georgia, and Asheville, North Carolina, desirable for invalids suffering from from pulmonary and catarrhal complaints.—Charlotte Observer.

The Secret of Business Success.

It is claimed that Vanderbilt exhibited great nerve and shrewd business sagacity in the purchase of stocks and railroads controlled by him. Yet, whenever he made an investment he received in return an equivalent either as his own, or as collateral security. Dr. R. V. Pierce has invested many hundred thousand dollars in advertising, depending entirely upon the superior merits of his goods for security. The unparalleled popularity of his family medicines, and the annual increase in their sale, attest in arguments stronger than words their purity and efficiency. If the blood be impoverished, the liver sluggish or there be tumors, blotches, and pimples, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will effect a speedy and perfect cure. If the bowels be constipated use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. Debilitated females suffering with those peculiar dragging-down sensations and weaknesses, will find Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a safe and certain remedy. Prompt relief and a permanent cure have so universally followed its use, that the doctor now sells it under a positive guarantee.

OAKLAND, Douglass Co., Oregon, January 23, 1877.

DR. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.,

Dear Sir: Your Golden Medical Discovery has cured my daughter of goitre, after many physicians had failed. Enclosed please find $1.50 for a copy of The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser. With us it takes the place of the family physician. Yours truly,

AARON ALLEN.

Dear Sir: Four bottles of your Favorite Prescription have entirely cured my wife. We employed three different physicians and many remedies, but found no relief. With a thankful heart, I am ever your friend,

TIM LEE says there has not been a gleam of hope for the Republicans in Wake since the head of Ceburn came off.

THEY say that Holden smiled at the blow which smote the house of Harriss, and said but for the Collins cabal it had not been.

IT is the first time in the history of a reconstructed Republic, that a Harris, or the connection of a Harris was without office, or the hope of office.

THE heads of Arthur, Cornell and Cebe Harriss are trophies enough for the headsman Hayes, for the dog days at least, and he may for the present desist.

REPUBLICAN county canvassers say it is an uphill business now that the Hartriss–Lee influence has cooled, and fizzles out in ginger pop, campaign lemonade and "sich."

HAYES, what dost thou to the loyal house of Harris? What hopest thou with the hand of the Harris against thee? Dreadest thou; heedest or fearest thou, the vengeance of a central organ of North Carolina Republicanism?

THE Euphrates Valley Railroad which England proposes to build will shorten the route to India 500 miles over the present route via the Suez Canal. It will run from some point opposite the new English possessions in Cyprus to the head of the Persian Gulf.

THE President having removed Collector Arthur and Naval officer Cornell from the Custom House at New York, the Radical politicians of the Empire State were thrown into consternation until it was known that Cebe Harris had shared a like fate at the United States Court House and Post office in Raleigh, when the Conklingites subsided.

EX-SENATOR CLINGMAN in his reminiscence of a long and eventful political life, forgets to mention that letter of his to the Whig caucus in 1854, that if they would stand firm to him he could control there Western Democrats, and make his election to the Senate sure. He may have forgotten it, but there are surviving members of that Legislature who have not Vance was in at that session, but he had been pledged anti–Clingman.

GENERAL CLINGMAN complains of the unfairness of the News in not publishing his hand to mouth interview with another paper in this city, before presenting him to the public through telephone. Fair exchange is no robbery, and if the General will procure the publication of the telephonic interview in the organ through which he fulminates, the News will cheerfully reproduce the hand to mouth interview from the files of that paper, and throw the last letter into the bargain. Come, now.

The experiment of substituting hardened glass for type metal has been successful in France. It is stated that the type founders' models and machinery can in general be used without further change. The new types, made of glass, preserve their cleanliness almost indefinitely, they are said to wear better than metal, and they can be cast with a sharpness of line that will print more distinctly than is possible with the old type.

CYPRUS is one of the largest of the Mediterranean Islands. Its greatest length is 120 miles, its circumference about 250 miles and its area 2,768 square miles. It has a population of 200,000, though in better days and under good government it has supported a population of 1,000,000. Cyprus lies 230 miles north east from the Damietha mouth of the Nile. Cotton, madder and tobacco, are grown and some silk is produced. The vine and olive flourish, the former producing a sweet wine whice is the chief article of export.

The Poll Tax.

Now and then the proposition comes up from some demagogue to have the poll tax abolished, and it has always proceeded from the Republican party. It is one of the chief campaign cards of those Independents who run under Republican auspices.

The poll tax in North Carolina goes into the free school fund, and it is about the only contribution that the colored people make for educational purposes. While they pay only this proportion of the public tax, they receive an equal benefit from the free schools of the State, and should they be wrought up to the point of voting for the abolition of the poll tax, they deliberately vote to discontinue to themselves the benefits of the free-school system of the State.

The property owners, who are the white people, have cheerfully paid the property and poll tax imposed for the support of free public schools to be maintained without distinction of race, and they are content to so continue. But if the colored people are determined to escape all the burdens of government, and throw the educational support of their children entirely upon the white people, then will find in a very short time the educational fund to be very scant.

It is a very great pity that colored people cannot be left to quietly and without prejudice see and appreciate the public interests of their race. They have been getting along very well; much better than was to have been expected, and all that is necessary for their good is to be let alone. But the demagogues will not allow them the rest of peace and quiet. An emotional and inflammable race, there are those whose only hope of public notice or promotion lies in the agitation and corruption of the colored sentiment, and every such movement tends to the disturbance of their relations with the white people, and consequently to the destruction of their best interests.

It is to be hoped that the colored people of Wake will be caught by no such chaff as Mr. Bledsoe is attempting to cast before them, for their allurement.

Politics in Cabarrus.

The action of Colonel Paul B. Means, in withdrawing from the legislative contest in Cabarrus is to be commended, and furnishes a splendid example to other sections of the State.

Without expressing any opinion on the merits of the controversy in that county between Col. Means and Mr. Odell, it is enough that Mr. Means deemed he had good grounds for insisting upon his position as a candidate for the Legislature, and that he had a following to sustain him.

Yet nothing but harm could have resulted to the Democratic party through such division and controversy, and he comes out like a man and a party abiding Democrat, and withdraws from the contest, preferring the restoration of harmony in the party ranks to the success of his own promotion. It is not to be expected that the general public will much familiarize itself with the details of local political convulsions in Cabarrus or any single county, but it is enough for the people of the whole State that Col. Means has laid his personal ambition and his resentments on the altar of the Democratic party.

This young gentleman, than whom there is no more worthier in the State, was last Spring a victim to the noble instincts of personal friendship, and sacrificed himself in his defence of a friend. Upon the merits of that unfortunate controversy it is not now necessary to say anything whatever, but it is a hard fate that Colonel Means should suffer in the public estimation for having merely discharged what he deemed a duty to one whose position forbade that he should himself enter the public arena. There are hardly two opinions regarding the ill-advisedness of the step which Col. Means took, and they are few who sympathize with the criticisms and assaults that were made on a gentleman whose modesty and heroism, and unflinching manhood under all circumstances, has challenged the admiration of all who have learned his history, and endeared him to a large portion of the people of North Carolina. But it is to be remembered, or it should be known, that older heads than that of Col. Means prompted the step, and upon broader shoulders rests the responsibility of the Schenck-Shotwell publications. Col. Means deserves the consideration of those who did not sympathize with him last Spring. He owes it to himself to bring out the full history of his last Spring campaign, and he is now to be commended for the position he assumes as a Democrat willing to subordinate himself, under the most trying circumstances, to party organization. It would be fortunate if the lesson he illustrates should not be lost on other gentlemen prominent before the public and in the Democratic party.

From the Head to the Tail of a Ticket.

It has been several times paraded that Governor Vance, in the campaign of 1876, fell behind the Democratic State ticket, but for what purpose these statements were, from time to time carefully made, and the figures of the election returns skilfully manipulated, the public has not until very recently been apprised. For some time it remained a matter of wonder, since it was not the work of the Republican enemy, but the gratuitous performance of friends inside the Democratic party.

But it is now perfectly manifest why the fact is so frequently and with such care and emphasis dwelt upon in certain public prints. It is to prejudice the election of Governor Vance to the United States Senate, and General Clingman makes an exposition of the conspiracy; for he makes use of the same figures, and instead of concealing the purpose, declares it. But neither he nor those engaged with him in the effort to defeat the Governor for the Senate undertake to say what the figures in the election of two years ago have to do with the Senatorial contest now.

While a manipulation of the election returns show Vance to have fallen behind the general ticket for reasons apparent to all and plainly understood by those who so delight to parade the fact, it is a circumstance within the knowledge of every one that Governor Vance was from the moment of his nomination, and indeed before, the very life of the campaign. To him more than to any other man in North Carolina are the people indebted for the great success of two years ago, and his detractors know it. Not that he is so transcendentally great above every other man, but it is well known that there is a charm of romance about his name, a magnetism that produces an enthusiasm among the people which no one else ever has awakened in North Carolina. The public has intimate acquaintance with these facts, appreciates fully the merits of the man under fire, and understands how a record as Governor of the State during the war could have prejudiced against him a few voters out of many thousands.

It is unfortunate, however, for the enemies of Governor Vance, that they should have selected as one of the instruments of their detraction, a gentleman whose knowledge of getting from the head to the tail of the ticket has been acquired through personal experience in the line of that performance. In the convention campaign of 1875. General Clingman beat his Republican opponent, a very weak one at that, but seventy votes in the county of Buncombe. In the gubernatorial election, the following year, Governor Vance beat Judge Settle seven hundred and seventy-seven votes in Buncombe county. Settle ran more than twenty ahead of his ticket, and Vance fell thirteen behind Kenan, Love and Worth, the three foremost on the Democratic ticket.

VEGETINE.

The Very Best Medicine.
—FOR—
DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION.

NEWTON, N. H., March 27, 1877.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear sir,—Once more I take the pen to praise that king of medicines, Vegetine. When I began to take Vegetine two years ago with such marked benefit, my friends thought it was a stimulant effect, and would soon subside, leaving me as bad as before. Thinking that some of those who read the testimonial which I wrote at that time, might think the same, I write once more to satisfy them on that point. Since I began to take vegetine, almost two years ago, I have gained steadily until the present time, at which I am enjoying my former health, and consider myself cured by Vegetine. Two years ago I was as low as man could be and live. I was confined to the bed for eight months, and given up to die by eight doctors some of the most skilled in this State. They said I had several diseases, including consumption, heart disease, and several others, equally fatal, and must die. But Vegetine, taken as a last resort, brought me through and to that I owe my life. Since my health began to improve, I have made a study of disease, and find the cause of all my symptoms to have been Dyspepsia or indigestion, and I also find that five cases of disease of every six, are effects of the same cause. When the food is not properly digested in the stomach, it becomes a poisonous, putrid mass, which is absorbed into the blood, and by that it is conveyed to all parts of the system, causing symptoms of disease in any or all of the organs of the body, and if this cause is not removed, these symptoms become in time organic diseases. I have given Vegetine a thorough test in my own case, and also in that of many of my acquaintances, and find it to be the very best medicine extant for Dyspepsia or indigestion, one of the symptoms of which is usually the belief that you have some fatal organic disease. I am well known in the towns of Goffstown, Weare, and Newton of this State (N. H.), and can furnish an undeniable corroboration of all of these statements. I will willingly answer any letters of inquiry in regard to my case, or the use of Vegetine.

Yours truly,
A. J. BURBECK.

If Vegetine is taken regularly, according to directions, a certain and speedy cure of Dyspepsia will follow its use.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—For the last fifteen years, during the months of May and June, I have been afflicted with what the doctors called Asthma. It was very distressing, rendering me miserable, so that I dreaded its coming on. I was recommended to use Vegetine I took two bottles before I expected the attack, and was entirely relieved. I feel grateful to Vegetine.

PIMPLES
AND HUMORS ON THE FACE.

In this condition of the skin, the Vegetine is the great remedy, as it acts directly upon the blood. It cleanses and purifies the blood, thereby causing humors to disappear. By internal treatment all impurities are thrown out. Vegetine gives a good circulation to the blood, relieving the inflamed or congested organism, restoring the health, giving a good, clear complexion.

ELECTION THURSDAY, AUGUST 1ST.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——A drummer's license has been issued to Brunt & Turner, of Baltimore

——Raleigh Chapter, No. 10, meets this evening at 8 o'clock.

——The Daily News last Friday contained 22½ columns reading matter. Who can beat that?

——So parched is the earth that the heavy, though brief showers of Saturday, produced no visible effect.

——We regret to learn of the serious illness of a little son of Colonel T. M. Holt, (aged 7 years) at Haw River, of diphtheria.

——Several of our citizens left yesterday for Beaufort, and quite a party leaves to day. Our seaside resort promises to be lively this season.

——Cantelopes, the most delicious of our fruits, are making their appearance. Water melons are now brought in much finer than the ones some time heretofore.

——Eighty-six cases were put at the foot of the docket in the Supreme Court. The Court commenced on them yesterday morning and made good headway yesterday.

——The Young Men's Christian Association held services in the jail Sunday afternoon. This noble band of workers is extending its good work everywhere. The results of their efforts in these directions cannot but be productive of good.

Magistrate's Court.

Bird Ferrall appeared before Justice Watts yesterday, charged with the theft of a cow from Daisy Paschal. He was bound over to the Criminal Court in the sum of $50.

For the Penitentiary.

Sheriff A. H. Paddison, of Pender county, brought up and delivered to the authorities of the State Penitentiary two convicts, Loftin Murphy and Oliver Tate, both colored, both guilty of larceny and sentenced to 2 years' imprisonment.

A Quiet City.

Sunday last was one of the quietest ever known here. The barrooms were, as a rule, closed. There was less drunkenness, visible at least, than for a long time. The result of this pleasant way of spending the day was shown by the absence of cases at the Mayor's Court yesterday.

Col. Lon. Stephenson.

We regret to learn that Col. L. D. Stephenson, one of our popular Democratic candidates for the Legislature, is very unwell. He came to the city on yesterday afternoon from the speaking at Cary, and by advice of his physician has gone home to rest for a day or so. He is threatened with serious illness.

Excursion To-Day.

The Oak City Brass Band left yesterday evening for Goldsboro. It will return to-day with the excursion from that point to Charlotte. The train will arrive here at 6 a. m. and leave at 8 a m. A large number of colored people will join it here. The Oak City Blues and some members of the East Raleigh Guards and Oberlin Vance Guards will also go. There will be a parade of colored troops in Charlotte.

The Wrong Reason.

The last issue of the Roanoke News, says: "There is an old man living in this county who says it has been handed down by tradition that when the devil took Christ to the top of the mountain and showed him all the nations of the earth, proffering them to Him if He would serve him, he held his hand over Weldon, for fear he might accept it, and since, that time the devil has had a special care for us." No one who has ever visited Weldon can deny the facts in this statement, but a wrong reason is given. The reason the patron saint of the place covered his protege from sight was because he was ashamed of it!

Market Reports.

The clerk of the market, C. Battle Fowler, Esq., reports the following as having been exposed for sale during the week just past: Beeves, 56; sheep, 162; hogs, 18; fish, 140 bunches. Spring chickens have been abundant, at 12½@15 cents; grown fowls, at 17½@20. Eggs brought 10 cents per dozen, while butter ranged in price from 20 cents to 25 cents per pound. The supply of vegetables and country produce of all kinds has been so great as to exceed anything of the kind in years. Fruits, melons, &c., are also abundant. The quality of the watermelons was poorer than usual at this season, but growers state that the crop will be a fine one, both as to quantity and quality.

The Gregory House Goldsboro.

This is really one of the best hotels in North Carolina. Mr. Freeman, one of the proprietors, assisted by Lt., T. H. Bain, are polite and clever to the travelling public. Passengers enroute for Beaufort should stop at this house when in Goldsboro. *

Pic Nic.

A number of the Jewish residents of the city enjoyed an informal pic nic at the farm of Jno. G. Williams, Esq., yesterday. The affair was delightful, and the warmth here but made the pleasant trip to the country's cooling shades more appreciated by the participants. They will have another pic nic next Thursday.

Personals.

Maj. C. N. Stedman, of Wilmington, Hon. Thos. S. Venable, of Oxford, and Fred. Phillips, Esq., of Tarboro, are in attendance upon the Supreme Court.

Judge J. N. Bunting to-day starts on the canvass as an Independant Candidate for the House. He would have taken the field the first day had not illness prevented. However it is not too late for him to enjoy being beaten.

Just So.

O. R. Smith, of this State, has invented, as is well known, a cotton picker. When he heard that Edison had been lately applied to to invent a machine of that kind, he casually remarked that Edison "might invent a bootjack that would kill three cats at a throw, preempt the sidereal heavens for electric purposes, and supersede Gabriel in the last day with the telephone, but when it comes to automatic cotton picking, he must please not infringe."

Attempt at Robbery.

On Saturday afternoon three boys of this city, one of whom is a son of Capt. Timberlake, went to Crabtree, at the old powder mills, for the purpose of taking a bath. Their clothes they left on the bank, in sight. After being in the water a short time, happening to look towards the point where the clothes were, they observed two negro men apparently engaged in rifling the garments. They went ashore as soon as they could, when a fight ensued between them and the negroes. The boys are all quite small, and were of course worsted in the encounter. One of them received a severe blow on the head, given by one of the negroes. The latter finally ran off, leaving the boys in posession of the field.

The Next Fair.

The Agricultural Department is in receipt of a large number of fine specimens of cereals and grasses, from prominent agriculturists of the western portion of the State. These are notably fine, and will attract attention. If our farmers will contribute of their wealth, we can make such an exhibit as will give the Department a reputation second to none in this respect. The happy progress of matters agricultural in the Old North State is gratifying to us who are here at the centre and keep posted. But there are numbers of persons who do not know the improvements. While, superficially, our progress in all respects, may not appear equal to that of sister States yet we are, despite all the complaints of hard times, on the sure highway to prosperity. If there is concert of action on the part of the farmers the Fair will be, by great odds, the best ever held here.

The Goldsboro Rifles.

We are really delighted to see that the good people of Goldsboro, both ladies and gentlemen, propose to give an entertainment at the Town Hall on Thursday and Friday nights next, 18th and 19th instants, for the benefit of this excellent military company. The entertainment will be strictly dramatic and the programme has been admirably arranged for the occasion. The object is really a meritorious one, and our friends in Goldsboro should patronize it liberally. Through the influence of Capt. W. H. H. Cobb, Lieut. T. H. Bain, and the other officers of the company, a fine armory has been secured and fitted up in splendid style.

Restful Nights, Days free from Torture

A wait the rheumatic sufferer who resorts to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. That this benignant cordial and depurent is a far more reliable remedy than colchicum and other poisons used to expel the rheumatic virus from the blood, is a fact that experience has sadly mortify demonstrated. It also enjoys the advantage of being—unlike them—perfectly safe. With many persons a certain predisposition to rheumatism exists, which renders them liable to its attacks after exposure in wet weather, to currents of air, changes of temperature, or to cold when the body is hot. Such persons should take a wine glass or two of the Bitters as soon as possible after incurring risk from the above causes, as this superb protective effectually nullifies the hurtful influence. For the functional derangements which accompany rheumatism, such as colic, spasms in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, imperfect digestion, &c., the bitters is also a most useful remedy. It is only necessary in obstinate cases to use it with persistency. jy 16-6t
